

History

Since 1990, Automated Resource Management Associates (ARMA) has specialized in providing comprehensive IT business solutions to public and private companies operating in the federal sector. Today, ARMA is a small, women-owned, SDB business enterprise that provides a broad range of performance-based information technology services to agencies of the U.S. Government and to public and private institutions within the industry. We offer our customers quality long-term, flexible solutions that meet their requirements on schedule and within budget.

The ARMA Promise:

Whether you need one senior-level resource person or an entire project team, ARMA will provide and manage employees with the training and experience you need.
